UNITED STATES TAKES ACTION AGAINST JAPAN: ABROGATION OF PACT OVERJOYS CHUNGKING, GIVES BAD SHOCK TO TOKYO

U.S. Stand Contrast To Britain's

YESTERDAY, THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT gave notice of the abrogation of the Commercial Treaty with Japan, signed in 1911. The end of this agreement clears the way for economic retaliation against Japanese attacks on American interests in the East, according to Reuter.

"Whereas Britain, in her agreement in Tientsin, may have receded, such is not the course of the United States," writes the "New York Times."

The Washington correspondent of the same paper reports that when the Senate Committee for Foreign Affairs postponed discussion on the abrogation proposal, the President decided to act immediately.

A note denouncing the agreement was thereupon handed to the Japanese Embassy by Mr. Francis Sayre, Assistant Secretary of State.

RETALIATION

NEW YORK, July 27 (Reuter)—The "New York Times," referring to the United States Government's move to terminate the 1911 pact with Japan, says that the administration's step signifies that the United States is not only standing on her rights, but that she is prepared to follow those rights as they are infringed by Japan with retaliatory action.

The United States' action means, continued the paper, that if Japan, through the present series of face-slappings of Americans by Japanese soldiers in China, is deliberately attempting to make the United States lose face in the Far East, the entire Orient might as well know that the United States intends to assert her prestige vigorously to meet Japan with the only language a military-dominated Government seems to understand.

SUMMARY OF LONDON REACTIONS TO MOVE

LONDON, July 27 (Reuter)—The United States note to Japan concerning the abrogation of the Commercial Treaty with Japan can be fairly described as one of the greatest surprises connected with the Sino-Japanese war, especially since it follows so closely on the defeat of the President on the neutrality issue and other indications of the revived strength of the isolationist faction.

Although it is not yet time for editorials, the evening's news-bills feature the abrogation prominently.

Government quarters refuse to comment, saying that no official news of the abrogation has been received and its effects will need careful consideration.

A survey was made by Reuter in Chinese, British, and Japanese circles.

The Chinese are jubilant and reiterate the predictions made at the beginning of the war that the United States would sooner or later be bound to take action in regard to it.

British circles state that the American action cannot fail

Full Text Of Abrogation

WASHINGTON, July 27 (Reuter)—The complete text of the Note is as follows:

"During recent years the Government of the United States has been examining treaties of commerce and navigation in force between the United States and foreign countries with a view to determining what changes may be needed to be made towards better serving of the purposes for which such treaties were concluded.

"In the course of his survey the Government of the United States has come to the conclusion that the Japan-United States Treaty of Commerce and Navigation, signed at Washington on February 21, 1911, contains provisions needing new consideration.

"Towards preparing the way for such consideration with a view to better safeguarding and promoting American interests as new developments may require, the Government hereby gives notice of its desire that the Treaty be terminated and will expect the Treaty, together with its accompanying protocol, to expire six months from this date." (Signed) CORDELL HULL

What Japan Stands To Lose If U.S., Britain Join Hands

SHANGHAI ASKING IF CRAIGIE WILL TAKE STRONG STAND OPPORTUNITY

SHANGHAI, July 27 (Int'l)—Anglo-American circles here received with satisfaction the Washington report concerning the American abrogation of Treaty of Commerce and Amity with Japan of 1911.

This move is intended to strengthen the British attitude in the Tokyo talks, although it is feared that it is rather late.

Dependence On Democracies The United States, the British, French and Dutch Empires during 1938 (last available figures) provided Japan with 86 per cent. of her essential war materials. This included 77 per cent. of her aircraft, 99 per cent. of her oil and petroleum, and more than 90 per cent. of all her metals and ores.

In 1938 the U.S.A. sent $13,000,000 worth of aircraft and part to Japan. British Malaya gave her 67.5 per cent. of her rubber and 92 per cent. of her tin. From Canada, the Japanese

The democracies also took 82.3 per cent. of Japan's exports; 40 per cent. of these were sent to Empire countries.

CHUNGKING IS ENTHUSIASTIC

CHUNGKING, July 27 (Reuter)—The news of America's decision to abrogate the Commercial Treaty with Japan was received in Chungking with the greatest joy and enthusiasm.

While the decision will not be effective until six months hence, it is regarded as the greatest gesture of moral encouragement which China has so far received in the course of her struggle.

DOLLAR UP

Private advices from Shanghai state that the financial and stock markets reacted immediately and favourably to the news of Washington's action.

The Chinese dollar firmed considerably and the price of gold in Chinese currency registered a drop.

SPANISH EMBASSY DENIAL

LONDON, July 27 (Reuter)—The Spanish Embassy has denied reports of differences between the Monarchists and Phalangists, although rumours persist that another of General Franco's trusted generals has been dismissed.

It is reported that General Delano has been appointed Spanish Ambassador to the Argentine.

People Of Japan Are Undeceived

TOKYO, July 27 (Reuter)—President Roosevelt's sudden action torpedoed the false notions of the Japanese people regarding the American attitude towards their country which had been fostered by a long campaign of misrepresentation of American forbearance in China.

In Government circles, likewise, the first reaction was surprise. The Japanese nation had been led to believe that the Vandenberg resolution was a measure of domestic policy, which would never be implemented in summary action.

The stock market suffered a setback at the receipt of the news. Declines ranging up to three Yen were recorded on many stocks, although a few stocks showed gains.

When he received news of the abrogation, Mr. Yoshizawa, head of the American Section of the Foreign Office, is understood to have said: "The action is regrettable. So long as America persists in her present attitude, satisfactory results cannot be expected even if a new commercial treaty is proposed."

The King received General Sir Edmund Ironside, on his appointment to the post of Inspector-General of the Overseas Forces, says a Reuter message from London.

WHAT IS DELAYING LONDON LOAN TO CHINA?

A Reuter message from Chungking last night quoted Chinese reports to the effect that Britain had made a new Export Credit Loan to China, totalling $3,000,000 Sterling.

"Central News" also reported this.

Early this morning came a new Reuter message from London. It stated that "the signature of a new credit agreement, reported from Chungking, is incorrect. Negotiations in this connexion have been going on for some months, but they have not yet been concluded and nothing has been signed."

PARLEYS ON TIENTSIN

Stubbornness Of Japanese

TOKYO, July 27 (Reuter)—A communique states that the British and Japanese representatives held meetings this morning and afternoon.

In the morning further details with regard to possible future police procedure in Tientsin were worked out and the representatives passed the afternoon in consideration of economic questions.

"Domel" states that although "agreement has been reached on the main points," there is still some divergence of views on the proposed dismissal of anti-Japanese employees of the British Municipal Council at Tientsin and the extradition of the four men accused of murdering the Commissioner of Customs.

GEN. DOUMENC FOR MOSCOW

PARIS, July 27 (Reuter)—It is confirmed, according to a Havas report, that General Doumenc, Commanding the First Region (Lille), will participate in the proposed Staff talks in Moscow.

BOMBING OUTRAGES IN LIVERPOOL BY I.R.A.

Bridge And Post Offices Wrecked By Explosions

LONDON, July 27 (Reuter)—Irish Republican Army terrorists struck again early to-day with three outrages in Liverpool.

One explosion wrecked a bridge on the Leeds-Liverpool Canal at Maghull, five miles from Liverpool, completely blocking the waterway.

A second explosion, believed to have been caused by sticks of gelignite, practically wrecked the interior of the Mount Pleasant Liverpool Post Office blowing out the front part of the building and littering the streets with debris.

The third explosion occurred in a letter-box near the post office.

Special Criminal Investigation Department officers early this morning continued inquiries on the London outrages and scores of people were interviewed but hitherto no-one has been detained.

Police guards are mounted on all London bridges and a watch is being kept at railway stations and public service departments.

Special Bill

LONDON, July 27 (Reuter)—Lord Stanhope, First Lord of the Admiralty, announced in the House of Lords to-day that in view of the I.R.A. outrages, it was proposed to pass the prevention of violence bill in all its stages to-morrow.

Lord Snell, leader of the Opposition, said that the Bill was an urgent one and that there would be general agreement in whatever variation of procedure, was necessary.

The Prime Minister spoke with some warmth on the bombings in Liverpool and assured the House that no effort would be spared to bring to justice those guilty of these criminal and cowardly attacks.

The twenty-fifth anniversary of the outbreak of the World War and of the Battle of Tannenberg will be celebrated by the German armed forces with special ceremonies on August 2 and 27.

H. E.'S ADDRESS

Text of His Excellency's address follows:—"Before the business on the agenda is taken I will ask your attention for a brief moment to a statement which I feel it in my duty to make.

It is evident that in some quarters in this Colony there is an impression that the preliminary agreement recently reached in Tokyo between the British Ambassador and the Japanese Foreign Minister indicates or foreshadows

SOLDIER INJURED BY CAR

MAGAZINE GAP ACCIDENT

A soldier of the Middlesex Regiment proceeding up Stubbs Road, near Magazine Gap, during the course of the black-out last night was knocked down and injured by military car and was taken to hospital.

The injured man is Private Dwyer, who was walking abreast up the road with Private Miller, of the same Regiment. They were out in connexion with the military exercise in which the Army, Navy and Volunteers took part.

Private Dwyer was hit in the back and knocked down by an Austin car, No. 4875, belonging to the military authorities and driven by Lance Corporal Rumford, of the Royal Corps of Signals, which was proceeding up the slope at reduced speed and with shaded lights.

Assisted into the car, Dwyer was taken to the Military Hospital, Bowen Road, where he received medical attention.

Black-out Exercise Success: Decontamination Squads' Splendid Work

RESTAURANT INCIDENT REPORTED FROM THE WANCHAI DISTRICT

FOLLOWING AMPLE WARNING BY THE AIR RAID PRECAUTIONS AUTHORITIES the public responded well to the compulsory black-out test which was carried out successfully last night. The period of total extinguishment commenced shortly after 9 o'clock with the sounding of the air raid warning signal, over a period of three minutes, which was clearly audible throughout the Colony and the mainland.

Traffic including ferries, which came to a standstill, resumed at 10 p.m. with restricted lighting. The "all clear" was sounded at 11.10 o'clock when normal lighting was resumed.

A.R.P. Wardens were on official duty while members of St. John Ambulance Brigade patrolled the various districts attending to "casualties." The Fire Brigade dealt efficiently with an incendiary bomb explosion in Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation premises while decontamination squads were busy on the mainland and in the Wanchai area.

A German military mission arrived at Lisbon yesterday en route to Spain, says Reuter.

FIRE EMERGENCY IN CITY

All the conditions of an outbreak of fire caused by an incendiary bomb were simulated at Statue Square, writes a "Daily Press" reporter who made a tour of the city.

An incendiary bomb was taken to have burst in the premises of the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation soon after the alarm was sounded. In response to a call, Fire Brigade appliances were rushed from the Central and Wanchai stations.

Assuming that all water mains had been put out of action, Fire Brigade workers, relaying long hoses from one appliance to another from the Praya to Des Voeux Road Central, drew water from the

WIMBLEDON CHAMPION DEFEATED

U.S. TENNIS SURPRISE

NEW YORK, July 22 (T/Ocean)—The greatest surprise was caused on Wednesday when the American Wimbledon Champion, Bobby Riggs, and Elsworth Cook, Wimbledon finalist and the Champion the Men's Doubles, were defeated in a tournament at the sea resort in New Jersey, which was arranged to select the U.S. team for the Davis Cup Competition.

Bobby Riggs was beaten 4:6:7 by Frank Guernsey, a youth from Florida, who has never been heard of so far.

Elsworth Cook was defeated equally easily by 17-year-old Jack Kramer, 3:6:6.

No Reliability

The defeat of the two Wimbledon champions makes a formation of a Davis Cup Team even more difficult. Since the time of Donald Budge, it has been felt that the U.S. players, though good, quite often have always lacked reliability so far as their performances were concerned.

This criticism is now confirmed by the case of the two Wimbledon champions who were beaten by unknown youths in the first tournament, practically, for which they entered since their turn from England.

CONFIDE IN FAITH
PRIOR

A WIFE IS HAVING difficulties with the table manners of her husband. There are no children, therefore, she finds it difficult to point out table manner errors. After listing a few of his actions with his food, she inquires how to break him of this personal habit?

Too bad you did not notice this particular trait before you married the man, but that is over! If he is the type who will "take advice from the shoulder," make your remarks in this regard some evening when he is in a good mood and the two of you are alone. If your husband wishes to "make the grade" with smart young people, he will not do so by taking soup from the tip of his spoon, but, better a whole piece of bread, etc. The table manners are a spotlight to home training. Check them up by all means.

The table napkin should be laid across the lap partly folded, only a small section should be used at the mouth. Soup from the side of the spoon, and the buttering of bread in small sections as you require. Unusual food—no awkward moments with avocado or mango halves served in the rim—these should be eaten with a spoon. Or boiled lobster with the claws should be tackled with an oyster fork rather than the fingers. Be very, very careful of table manners and eat the food slowly.

THE HOSTESS

STRANGER HAS BEEN living in Hongkong for several months. Her husband now requests that she entertain five dinner guests, this is the first large entertaining job she has tackled and she is in a dither. Exactly what are the necessities for a hostess? She has been married one year.

It would be a good idea for you to invest in a sound and reliable book of etiquette immediately. Now, look at the position of hostess "squarely! What would you do for intimate friends who call on you? Of course, you arrange the dinner menu, the table decorations, flowers in the living room and see that a bedroom is spotless with clean linen in the bathroom for the use of the women. I would suggest you invite another member to the affair then you would have an even number which is much better. You may wear a hostess gown, hostess pyjamas. The evening of the entertainment, you receive your guests, put aside their wraps. As it is a home gathering, you serve cocktails, see that your guests have cigarettes. Your servant announces dinner, your husband will lead the way to the dining room with the female guest of honour, the others follow with you in the rear. Dinner progresses and you retire to the living room, or the ladies to the bedroom for facial rejuvenation. The rest of the evening progresses with bridge, conversation, motor drive, hotel dancing, etc. At all times you must watch the comfort of your guests in their desires and their conversation, keep talk from becoming too personal, business-like, boring, or dangerous to individuals.

A hostess rarely has a good time at her own parties. But, above all, don't overdo it and make people feel uncomfortable.

ON "SPEC"?

BUSINESS GIRL has been employed in the Colony for three years, her work is highly technical and she feels that she can support herself through this particular channel of industry. Now, she desires to leave Hongkong and go to the United States or England, but what about a position?

No doubt you could support yourself through your knowledge. However, I suggest as in the past to other writers, do not leave your home unless you have a round trip ticket and a certain sum of money to depend on when you arrive in a foreign city. If such is the case, then pack your bags and start on your way. It would be a good idea to contact as many business firms in your line of work, and attempt to have references. In England this means a great deal, in America very little.

DEAR FAITH PRIOR: my husband and I were born in a poor district of England. We married two years ago, and last September we came to the Far East. The wife writes asking if she and her husband must remain in the class they are born? They have not in the past year. Is this only temporary? Can they climb into a superior grouping of people? Or would that too only last while they are away from their own country? Husband & Wife.

LARGE SUBJECT

Dear Husband & Wife: The subject of classes in this life has been challenged and discussed in thousands of spoken and written words. It is a large subject. However, hundreds of people, either go higher or lower than the sphere into which they were born. It is very possible that if you were born of a poor working class, that you may rise above the confines of your surroundings. Education, in every day life, arts, sciences, common sense, business, travel, politics, social, or a profession tends to develop the character. Study, experience and keeping your head at all times will certainly improve you as a whole person. It may take years but you can do it if you have the strength of character and are very wise. Be careful of your companions, your associates, your daily life, waste little time, but then do not neglect the art of graceful play. Do not let money or position turn your head and do not try to be something you cannot live up to. However, there is one trait you must watch which is common in hundreds of "self-made" people. It is the slight inferiority complex, be careful of it, be big enough in character to overcome this prevalent characteristic.

(Each week in this column FAITH PRIOR answers questions of a personal nature submitted by readers of the "Daily Press.")

Pick A Posy

Many men wear a daily boutonniere as a matter of course, but women, the decorative sex, frequently hesitate to wear flowers except on definite occasions, and then as a corsage or in their hair.

It isn't that the sexes are confusing their roles, but women are passing up a daily opportunity for attractive ornamentation and can learn a lesson from the allegedly conventional male. The woman doesn't exist who doesn't delight in flowers and respond to wearing them. But fear of looking overdressed or conspicuous makes a great many women timid about wearing them.

Are you one of those possessed of the "Idee fixe" that you just won't wear flowers unless a man gives them to you? It is a nice sentiment but it works out in practice only for the first few months of a romance!

DULL CONVENTIONS

Don't be smothered by dull conventions. If your spirits become more gay and your step more sprightly when you sport a boutonniere, or if you feel your soul soften when you pin on a camellia, don't be a sissy. Wear them by all means, even if you're not going any place more adventurous than to the dentist with Junior. Get the idea that flowers are party accessories, out of your head. Wear them every day, at any time of day.

But be discreet. Select your flowers for the costume and time of day. For instance Orchids are not for day street wear; it is like drinking champagne with fried eggs and bacon. Flower for every day should be casual, whenever they strike your fancy or express your mood or complement your frock. And at all times give a thought to the texture of the material and the colour of your costume.

THREE POINTS

The following comparison will help you to judge the three points of flower selection at all times: flowers, costume and the occasion.

1. The Party, butterfly orchids.
2. "Dressy" event, fragile and romantic, dark red Chloë roses and violets.
3. Day occasion informal, a cabbage rose.
4. For a hostess, Finch rose, or violets.
5. For the jaunty suit, Harvard red carnations.
6. Sophisticated glimmer, a bright red antherium with yellow prongs.
7. The tweedy clothes, bronze ranunculus, yellow acacia and rose geranium leaves.

And of course if you are the type "white violets" will make every woman on the street envy you!

LIPSTICK!

The season for debutantes is on in London. The majority of these budding young ladies are selecting white for their presentations. And, careful thought is being given to the make-up for the white costumes. Beauticians are agreed that rouge and particularly lipstick to go with these dresses must be of a red that carries a hint of scarlet; which is to say that it must have slightly yellow tones. Blue or mauve shades, such as cyclamen, are found to be too cold and unbecoming.

Since many of the smartest evening frocks for summer are white too, this advice applies to said costumes.

And ladies take heed! Don't apply lipstick too thickly. It will make your mouth look hard and puts you out of the present stylish, youthful fashion picture.

The easiest way of getting a soft effect is to apply a cream, lightly, first, then put on the red lipstick by lip compression. After the process blot the mouth with tissue to remove surplus oil.

Another note of warning—Be sure your nail enamel matches or blends with your lipstick. To be sure place five of your fingers on your chin right under the lower lip and stare in your mirror. The colours will be pleasing satisfactory or you will shrink with horror at the contrasts!

YOUR HAT IS IN STYLE IF YOU JUST KNOW HOW TO LOOK FOR IT

UP TILL A FEW YEARS AGO, BUYING A HAT was a simple matter of elimination. You knew whether you wanted a sport hat or a dressy one, you had a vague idea about colour, and then you tried on every hat in stock. Your chances of looking well in any of them were just as good as the next customer. Certainly your coiffure played little part in determining your choice, hair dressing was much in the same styles per head.

Then along came "coiffure" of your head or you'll look as though you have been scalped. For this very reason you can go to extremes and wear exaggerated hats. The bumper sailor with a high crown is a good example.

LONG BOB

A long, loose bob frames your face so you can wear hats with or without. But don't try a tiny tilted hat, for your lovely locks will look like a shaggy mane. A small hat may look well but it must cover more of your head to balance the more abundant hair below the off-the-lace hat with a wide, high cuff and a large contrasting taffeta bow tied low at the back can only be worn with hair about the face to soften it. And the classic swaggy felt is no longer everybody's hat, it is now your's alone. This last style is the perfect model for the Hollywood bob.

Remember however, your hat is in style if you just know how to look for it. Maybe the following suggestions will help you in your autumn and winter millinery shopping.

SHORT BOB:

If you wear your hair cut short so that only half of the ear shows, a small hat is most becoming. Because your head line is trim and your hair is back from your face you can wear those wonderful little things that tilt way forward. Or you can push the short ends of your hair forward for softness around your cheeks and wear an off-the-face hat. But remember, a large hat may make you look all hat and no hair. The suggestion for flattery is a turbanlike hat that is all made of veiling for dress, or for severe smartness a rough straw with a bunch of flowers resting in its conical crown and brim turns up high in back.

UP-HAIR

If you wear your hair up, there is a resemblance of line in your hair to the short bob, and again the small hat tipped down in front will look best. Remember that your hats should never cover the back of your coiffure!

BACK

If you wear your hair up in the front and down at the back, you will look best in a hat with a brim. The brim can turn up or it can turn down, it can be very wide or quite narrow. And the crown should be small so that it won't set down too far over the naked ears. Whatever the size wear it pretty straight on your head, not tilted too far forward or pushed way back from your face. The large brim Baku straw or felt hat will flatter you. Or the pall-lalson straw with a tall stove-pipe crown is an example of how becomingly extreme your hat may be.

The men say the ladies hats are "crazy" but be "crazy like a fox" and be smart, select the hat for your coiffure!

THE AUTUMN FASHIONS:

"BUSTLE" AND "RUSTLE"

It is a bit early to turn to the inspection of the coming autumn styles. However, the clothing buyers and designers are having their previews and selecting models which will be previewed in August. And this is what they report.

We're to "bustle" and "rustle" right into the fall fashion picture, but we're not to lose one iota of glamour in the procession, for there'll be ostich laden bonnets to lend allure and quaint little hair-do's with puffs and ribbons.

That we're to present a picture of queenly, elegant, wasp-waisted, swan-necked, straight-backed type of beauty of grandmother's day, is the edict! And you will love it!

The idea is such an "about face" and requires impeccably good grooming stressing "regal posture" which was as dear to the 1880 glamour queen as her coiffure favours, and which will become an essential of chic this autumn.

PROUD OF PLUMAGE

There will be none of the usual casualness, for you'll be as proud of your plumage as the vain peacock. You will strut your bustle and there will be the swish of be-ruffled taffeta petticoats beneath black bangaline.

One of the charming advanced dresses is one which will be extremely popular. The lady will revel in the wide girdle that swatches her hips in crushed fabric and ends at the back over-skirt fullness, in lap-over effect stimulating the exciting bustle. The style is predicted to be a lead in the fashion parade.

Another ultra-new style has the aura of the "merry widow" about it, sleek-looking black, pliable crepe. The skirt is fashioned in tiers of the soft material, double-thickness for added weight, which give a tutular effect. The moderately full bodice has an alluring neckline in a V which is emphasized with a single exotic flower of exquisite detail. The short draped sleeves are unusually flattering.

It is reported that black, cinnamon brown and cyclamen red will be winning colours for early fall.

IDA LUPINO, Columbia Motion Picture Studio's contract actress models a dressy, shirt-maker silk frock of cyclamen tones. The costume hat with yards of veiling highlight the outfit which is correct for late morning and afternoon.

Ladies of Hongkong - It's your opportunity now to save as much as you spend! Practically every specialty shop in the city, has the "Sale Sign" out, and they really mean it in the reduction of summer merchandise.

Within several weeks it will still continue to be warm in climate, but the shops will be previewing the fall season millinery and wearing apparel. Your opportunity for purchasing late holiday styles will be almost nil, and too, you may not find a bargain.

VALUES ON SALE

LANE, CRAWFORD has the values and they are on sale! The summer's annual sale is now in progress, accessories to wearing apparel are reduced to clear. Gloves, all sizes and colours. Shoes, various sizes and styles. Underwear and corsets, girdles and brassieres reduced to bargain prices.

Swimming "gear" suits, capes, caps, and bathing shoes have been reduced and you will find the selection is good.

Frocks of all types and summer styles are on sale. The morning dresses in cotton, semi-sport frocks for afternoon, as well as formal styles. And the evening gowns have taken a worthwhile reduction. There are many colours, and creations offering a wide selection. However, a word of warning, don't wait too long before you investigate this sale because the size range is limited in many departments.

REDUCED TO HALF

MAYOS in the Arcade is in the "sale business" too! All summer's millinery and ready-to-wear has been reduced to half the selling prices of two weeks ago.

"White is right" for this summer, and there are several more months to go of this summer climate in Hongkong. Therefore, a new white chapeau at half the original price should be tempting. The millinery sale includes models large and small, with brims and without, and a wide selection of styles. The salons, doll-hats, sport and semi-sport creations in various types of straw. The trimmings vary, veils, ribbon, flowers, pins, quills compliment the individual styles.

Dresses for all occasions are also reduced to half price. Little cotton frocks bright with colour and demure in trim have been reduced down to $7.50. Spectator sport dresses for morning or afternoon are on sale, and a small selection of dressier models for afternoon. The evening gown selection has been slashed and maybe here you can find a bargain to fill in your wardrobe for August and September parties. Do you ever have too many evening frocks? Not one lady in a hundred dare say yes-so here is your opportunity to find a bargain and save toward the new and exotic winter evening costume!

SALE 'TILL MONDAY

Don't say that you were not warned—RIVELLE, in the Arcade, will continue to offer a "half-price" sale until Monday. All summer's merchandise, apparel and costume accessories, have been slashed to almost their cost prices to clear. However, the bargain is the new group of merchandise just received from America which due to the late arrival date must be included in this annual summer sale.

Little girls and big girls will find attractive morning dresses in colourful cottons tailored on summer's fashion designs. The play costumes for "grown-ups" are a good value. Slacks, two and three piece, play suits, drindis, shorts and shirts are all reduced to clear.

Hats in various grades of straw are on sale from $5 up. The shapes and sizes vary, the colour range is wide.

Informal and formal afternoon dresses are included in the reductions. Chiffons and acetates in bright colours tailored in individual attractive styles will be extra values to the shopper in the present weather. Too, these garments maybe worn far into the autumn.

The group of summer evening frocks are each a distinct creation of charm and fashion. Many of you who are bound on late vacations will welcome the opportunity of the value and saving. You can just about purchase two evening frocks for the regular price of one in this sale.

While you investigate the bargains in this shop do not forget to investigate the "sale price" of collars and cuffs in sets, gloves, bags, jewellery gadgets, artificial flowers and the tailored blouses of which only a few are left. Too, the children's frocks for morning and afternoon are their own bargains in value for the low price during this clearance.

"THE RETURN OF THE CISCO KID"

"Only one army to catch the Cisco Kid? Amigos, it is to laugh!" So boasts Cisco, and it is to laugh, indeed, (unofficially in fact) when "The Return of the Cisco Kid" opens to-day at the King's Theatre.

Warner Baxter, starred as the character that made him famous, has re-created for the screen O. Henry's immortal Robin Hood of the Rio Grande, for this 20th Century-Fox picture, and it is one of the most entertaining, action-packed romances this reviewer has seen in a long time of reviewing.

"The Cisco Kid" was first brought to the screen in "In Old Arizona" a decade ago. It was Warner Baxter's first big chance on the screen and he made the most of it.

The performance won him the Academy Award. His donning again of the same sombrero and silver-mounted pistols in "The Return of the Cisco Kid" appears to be on the same plane as that first triumph.

NEWCOMER WITH PROMISE: ANN MORRIS ON ROAD TO SCREEN FAME

Ann Morris was able to take advice, and now she is on the road to screen fame. When she was first given a screen test at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios, Billy Grady, talent scout, agreed that she was beautiful and had talent, but explained to her that she needed more dramatic experience. "Come back in a year," he said.

Exactly twelve months to the day, the young girl reported to the studio. She had been appearing in amateur plays and little theatre shows. She took another test, and this time it was a new story. Not only did she win a long-term contract, but a lead for her film debut.

She appeared opposite Dennis O'Keefe in "The Chaser." Since then she has had featured parts in "Spring Madness," "Honolulu," "Within the Law," "Society Lawyer," and other films.

Studied Music
Miss Morris was born in Tampa, Florida, August 5. As a child she no idea of following a screen career. She studied music with the hope of becoming a concert artist. She is still continuing her music with the idea that some day she may go on a concert tour.

She attended grade school in Dallas, Texas, and finished her schooling at Hollywood High School, where Cecilia Parker, Lana Turner and Loretta Young were once students. Ann is obtaining a college education by attending lectures at night and during the day when she's not working.

Ann's favourite sports are tennis, horseback riding and sailing. She can handle any type of sailboat up to an eight-meter, and has been in several races. She collects gramophone records, including everything from classics to swing.

William Powell, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer star, has concluded his wood-chopping vacation at Lake Arrowhead, part of the exercise routine to complete his recuperation, and has moved back to his Beverly Hills home.

MEN TIP MORE LIBERALLY THAN WOMEN

"Men tip more liberally than women, but women go overboard in Christmas gifts to various beauty operators who attend them during the year."

This amazing fact was brought to light recently at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios where a survey of the beauty shop tipping situation was made for scenes in "THE WOMEN," starring Norma Shearer, Joan Crawford and Rosalind Russell. Some eighteen licensed operators, appearing as technical advisers, brought various conditions of tipping to the fore.

What Survey Revealed.

In the first place, the survey revealed, women stick closely by the 10 per cent. required, whereas men, in the case of manicures in particular, go as high as half the total check. Women are not inclined to make a bountiful show of themselves in these matters and usually slip the tip into a pocket of the attendant, or leave it tucked beneath some item on the dressing table, while men flaunt their generosity to the world.

But what the girls lack in tips during the year, they more than make up at Christmas time. Women, generously endowed with the holiday spirit, often give more costly gifts to their beauty operators than to their friends, on the grounds that the girls need luxuries more than their associates.

As gifts, money comes first. Next in line is expensive lingerie, occasional fur coats, costly perfumes, bags and accessories. Small cars, brand new, have also been known to bob up, more frequently than one would suspect, as gifts from customers.

BROADCASTING PLAN FOR MALAYA

A scheme for providing two radio programmes, one European and the other Asiatic, each of from 84 to 94 hours a day, has been submitted to the Straits Settlements Government by the British Malaya Broadcasting Corporation, which at present operates one medium-wave and one short-wave transmitter at Singapore, broadcasting principally European programmes. The Corporation is erecting another medium-wave transmitter, and it is likely the Government will erect a short-wave transmitter. Singapore, with a population of more than half a million, only 6,000 radio licence-holders.

SENSATIONAL HUNGARIAN BOOK: WHY HAS IT NOT BEEN BANNED?

LONDON, July 16 (By Air Mail)—One of the minor mysteries of affairs in Central Europe is why the Hungarian Government have not at once suppressed the sensational book exposing German war plans that has been written by Dr. Ivan Lajos, a Hungarian professor in the Hungarian University of Pecs. He is not a Jew.

It is the rage of Budapest. The publisher of it brings out a fresh edition every day and cannot get enough copies. At the end of the day one can scour the bookshops of the city without securing a copy.

Secret Information

In the cafes the one big question is "Why don't they stop it?" Nobody appears to know. The only straightforward explanation is that the Government is only too ready to let their public know the truth about Germany.

The book, whose title can be translated as "Germany's Chances in War: As Mirrored in German Official Literature," deals with Germany's chances of winning a war, and, out of the mouths of German leaders, industrialists, soldiers and bankers, shows that they have not a ghost of a chance of winning even the much-expected lightning war. Most of the information and statements are from sources that are virtually hidden and secret.

One chapter gives in full the speech that Dr. Rudolf Brinkmann, vice-president of the Reichsbank before he was suddenly overtaken by a "brainstorm" and removed, made at Cologne industrialists last February. He warned them that in materials, capital and labour the country was at the end of its resources.

Other chapters deal with the food situation, the impossibility of getting enough oil for war, and official doubts about the attitude of Germany's population during war.

CATHEDRAL WEDDING

MR. A. A. BREMNER & MISS THOMSON

JUPITER FLUVIUS held the rainclouds together yesterday afternoon long enough to permit of a bride's entry into St. John's Cathedral, and long enough again to permit of the bridal party coming out to face a barrage of photographers.

For St. John's Cathedral yesterday was the scene of a wedding. Miss Monica Sady Thomson being the bride and Mr. Alexander Andrew Bremner the groom. The Rev. J. E. Higgs, Vicar of St. Andrew's Church, officiated.

The bride was a picture of charm in pale pink tulle, and she carried a bouquet of pale pink rosebuds to match. The bridesmaid was Miss Olive Jeffrey who was in lilac tulle and pressure hat. Her bouquet was in pale pink and mauve. The Matron of Honour, Mrs. Ritchie, was in cyclamen.

Mr. A. Ritchie gave away the bride. Mr. John Moodie was best man and the ushers were Mr. P. C. Jackson and Mr. T. Swan.

A reception was held later in the Ladies' Lounge of the Hongkong Club. The honeymoon will be spent at Fanling.

GUINEA PIGS ASSIST PICKPOCKETS

Even detectives have never finished learning and a new modus operandi of pickpockets will probably be circulated to all Shanghai Police Stations.

Central detectives received a report that a number of pedestrians had their pockets picked as they were chasing two guinea pigs that were racing down a side-walk in the Central district.

Men on duty were asked to keep a look out for guinea pigs running about the Bettlement and particularly about the demeanour of the chasers.

An alert officer saw a couple of guinea pigs running down a high-way and arrested two men, one who let the animals loose and the other who benefitted by the occasion in going through the pockets of excited standers-by.

Miss Elisabeth Bergner, the film actress, opened the exhibition of an Imperial Chinese scroll at Spinks, King-street, St. James's, at the private view. The public admission charge of 2s 6d was devoted to the maternity ward of the Royal Northern Hospital.

The Central Political University will enrol only a total of 350 students for the next term who wish to study journalism, geology and accountancy, but will not admit students who are taking up other courses. This shift in the policy of the university is said to be due to a desire to train more students who will better serve the Chinese Government under present national needs.

Japanese rayon is losing ground in the Philippines and possibly Japan will lose entirely her position maintained since 1930 as the principal source of rayon goods there, a survey by the Institute of Pacific Relations reveals. The trend in rayon trade is similar to that of cotton piece goods, a survey said. Last year Japan lost her predominant position as a supplier of cotton goods to the Philippines.

Marlene Sings And Dances In The Street

LONDON, July 15 (By Air Mail)—Paris pushed aside its worries about war and dictators tonight and danced through a July 14 "night" such as it has not known since pre-war times.

Troops from the Maginot Line on leave, Foreign Legionnaires, British guardsmen and sailors, and tourists in flannels and sports coats crowded round the stands of the open-air orchestras that were set up in the side streets outside cafes.

People Danced

This is certainly one holiday that Hitler has not spoiled. The people danced everything from Viennese waltzes to "swing" to the music of accordions and violins.

From a lorry in the Place de l'Opera, which was packed black with people, Marlene Dietrich sang some of the songs that made her famous in "The Blue Angel," and then set up a roar as she came down and danced with a Foreign Legionary.

Maurice Chevalier

In the modest Paris suburb of Montmartre, where he was born and where as a boy he earned his living by selling newspapers, Maurice Chevalier, his straw hat cocked on the side of his head, sang to other huge crowds.

HE GOT HIS 5S. WORTH

Oh! Mr. Pilot

Whatever shall I do?

I wanted a flip at Birmingham. But I queued up in the wrong queue.

Mr. Nicholas, of Small Heath, Birmingham, went to Birmingham airport on July 8, and stood in the queue to take a 5s. flight in an air liner.

He got his ticket, got into another queue and then into a plane. He went up, and was up for so long that he thought he was having a remarkably full 5s. worth.

At last he inquired why the flight was so long. He was then told that he was on his way to Weston-super-Mare. He had got into the wrong plane, one taking a party of councillors and others.

At Weston he was put up at an hotel for the night, and the air company, flew him back to Birmingham. For his 5s. he had had 47s. worth of air travel as well as hotel accommodation.

COMPULSORY SERVICE BILL BECOMES LAW: SPIRITED ADDRESS BY THE G.O.C.

The Hon. Mr. M. K. Lo Pledges Support Of The Chinese Community

THE COMPULSORY SERVICE BILL BECAME LAW YESTERDAY WHEN IT PASSED THROUGH SECOND AND THIRD READINGS AT THE LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL MEETING. Its passage was featured by a spirited address by His Excellency the General Officer Commanding Troops in China, Major-General A. E. Grasett, in the course of which he affirmed that in the eventuality of the Colony being attacked, "we shall resist to the full power of our resources and strength."

NO RACIAL DISCRIMINATION

The Hon. Mr. M. K. Lo, Unofficial Chinese member, also spoke, again pledging the support of the Chinese community in any measures which it may be found necessary to take in the interests of the Colony in these abnormal times. He also raised the question of the possibility of racial discrimination in the Hongkong Volunteers, in reply to which the Acting Colonial Secretary, Hon. Mr. W. J. Carrie, said that fears on that subject were groundless.

Other Bills passed at the meeting were Bills amending the Volunteer Ordinance, 1933, the Registration of Persons Ordinance, 1939, and the Hydrocarbon Oils Ordinance, 1939.

NO AMENDMENT

Attorney-General Explains Why

Moving the second reading of the Compulsory Service Bill, the Attorney-General said:—

"Sir,—Since the first reading of this Bill it has been suggested to me by the representatives of certain business houses that the public sittings of the tribunals provided for in clause 12 (1) of the Bill might lead to the disclosure of secrets of business organization which it would harm any firm concerned to disclose in public.

This question has been considered by Your Excellency and your advisers as well as by the chairman of the two tribunals and I am authorized to state that the Government is not prepared to amend the sub-clause, as that clause already gives the tribunals power to conduct their proceedings wholly or partly in private whenever the majority of the tribunal so decides.

It is considered inconceivable that the tribunals will force anyone to disclose in public business secrets which ought not to be so disclosed, and that in a matter of this kind employers should realize the elasticity of the clause as drafted and trust to the good sense of the tribunals.

I may add that the provisions of the clause are practically identical with those of section 12 of the Military Service Ordinance, 1918, which dealt with the tribunals which sat twenty-one years ago and which worked quite smoothly.

HON. MR. LO

CHINESE SUPPORT RE-PLEDGED

Hon. Mr. M. K. Lo said:—

Your Excellency—I suppose it is human nature for peoples of every clime and place to imagine that the times through which they are living constitute a record of difficulties. I venture to think that such a view of our contemporary times will have more historic justification than any such view in past history. It seems impossible to doubt that future generations of man will read with astonishment and bewilderment the history of our epoch.

They will read of the advance in scientific knowledge, and of material progress unaccompanied by any corresponding evolutionary advance in ethics and morals, of a reign of unbridled aggression, and of "grab and take" reminiscent of the jungle days of a great peaceful country, the Republic of China, being overrun by an aggressor, of the well-nigh superhuman efforts of Great Britain to arm herself against unprovoked aggression and to make her influence felt once more in the sacred cause of Peace amongst nations.

WILLINGNESS OF PEOPLE

In such a historical picture the willingness of the British people in any corresponding evolutionary advance in ethics and morals, of a reign of unbridled aggression, and of "grab and take" reminiscent of the jungle days of a great peaceful country, the Republic of China, being overrun by an aggressor, of the well-nigh superhuman efforts of Great Britain to arm herself against unprovoked aggression and to make her influence felt once more in the sacred cause of Peace amongst nations.

And it may be that, in such a picture, the action of this Council, with the complete unanimity of its members, in passing this Bill into law, which is the first measure of its kind in "peace" time in the history of the Colony now approaching its Centenary, will have a foot-note as a significant action of a tiny part of the British Empire in the general cause of Peace.

Sir, in explaining at last week's meeting that it was intended at the present time to apply the provisions of this Bill only to British subjects of European descent, Your Excellency was kind enough to state:—

"I trust sincerely that the many other British subjects in this Colony will understand that this differentiation is being made solely on the grounds of practicability."

May I, on behalf of my colleagues and myself, express to Your Excellency our grateful appreciation of your statement?

Chinese British subjects have never failed to respond to the Colony's call in time of her need, and if this measure were an ordinary measure for compulsory military service, with the implication I have suggested, I would have deemed it my duty, as a representative of the Chinese, to submit that no case whatever had been made out as against them for compulsory military service.

NOT MERE CONSCRIPTION

But, Sir, in my view this Bill is not a mere military conscription Bill; it is, as its preamble states, a measure "to make provision in respect to compulsory service."

As I understand the position, the idea underlying the measure is this:—that in order to be prepared to meet most effectively, and as soon as possible, an emergency which we all devoutly hope will never eventuate, it is considered essential that there should exist some central authority, equipped with the necessary power, to organize, in orderly stages and without waste or overlapping (which would not be easy in any system of voluntary service), all available personnel for all the varied essential services of the Colony. In such a general mobilization of services for the common good, all who are selected for service under the provisions of this Bill will be performing valuable public services. For them there should be public appreciation; there can be no question of personal stigma.

Such, Sir, is my understanding. I realize that it is possible to extract a somewhat different view from certain words which fell from my Honourable friend the Attorney-General at last week's meeting, but I have no doubt no such impression was ever intended by him.

Under clause 11 of the Bill, every person assigned to the Military or Air sections of the Hongkong Defence Reserve "shall be deemed to have been duly admitted as a member of the Hongkong Volunteer Defence Corps."

Under clause 6 a person certified as medically fit in the Reserve can enrol in the Corps, subject to Your Excellency's announcement as regards persons belonging to certain key post groups. In view of the close connection between the Corps and this Bill I desire to say a word about the Corps.

ATTENDANCE AT COUNCIL

Present at the meeting were:—His Excellency the Governor, Sir Geoffrey Northcote; His Excellency the General Officer Commanding, Major-General A. E. Grasett; the Acting Colonial Secretary, Hon. Mr. W. J. Carrie; the Attorney-General, Hon. Mr. C. G. Alabaster; the Acting Secretary for Chinese Affairs, Hon. Mr. H. R. Butters; the Financial Secretary, Hon. Mr. S. Caine; the Harbour Master, Hon. Comdr. G. F. Holt, R.N. (Retd.); the Acting Director of Public Works, Hon. Mr. A. R. Purves; the Director of Medical Services, Hon. Dr. P. S. Selwyn-Clarke; the following honourable Unofficial members:—Sir Henry Pollock, Mr. T. N. Chau, Mr. M. K. Lo, Mr. S. H. Dodwell, Mr. Leo D'Almada e Castro, Mr. J. K. Bousfield and Mr. Li Tse-long; and Mr. C. B. Burgess (Deputy Clerk of Councils).

THE VOLUNTEERS

Sir, the Colony is justly proud of its Hongkong Volunteer Defence Corps. But in order that its splendid esprit de corps, its efficiency, may not be impaired, it is essential that all its members should be able to feel that, as fellow members, working in union for a common cause, they do in fact receive equal treatment in every respect, and in all matters, without any discrimination between race or creed.

I understand, Sir, that there has been some rumour as to the possibility of racial discrimination being made in regard to pay on mobilisation, and that this rumour has occasioned some concern.

I need hardly point out that this concern has no reference to the sordid question of mere dollars and cents. It arises from a deep conviction that volunteers working for a common cause should receive equal treatment, and from a just resentment that any racial discrimination should exist in any matter whatsoever. I therefore venture respectfully to invite Your Excellency to state in this Council that any fear of racial discrimination in treatment in the Corps in any matter is groundless.

SUPPORT RE-PLEDGED

Finally, may I, Sir, on behalf of my Chinese colleagues and myself, once more pledge the willing co-operation and support of the Chinese Community in any measures which Your Excellency may find it necessary to take in the interests of the Colony in these abnormal times?

COL. SECRETARY

The Colonial Secretary: "The only point which has arisen to which an answer seems required is the suggestion of racial discrimination within the Hongkong Volunteer Corps. I am grateful to the Hon. Mr. Lo Man-kam for the opportunity to state that his fears on this subject are groundless. This Government fully agrees that all members of the Corps should receive equal treatment in every respect and at all times."

HONGKONG, JULY 28, 1939

AMERICA LEADS

THE ABROGATION by the United States Government of the Treaty of Friendship and Commerce with Japan, which has been in force since 1911, may prove to be the heaviest blow dealt to Tokyo's imperialist ambitions in Asia since the Washington Conference of 1921-22, which forced the Japanese army to evacuate Shantung.

THE FIRST concrete fruit of President Roosevelt's gradual steering of American foreign policy towards a point at which the great economic and military power of the United States could be cast into the balance as a counterweight to the schemes of the international aggressors, yesterday's action renders possible the complete prohibition of raw material exports to Japan. And statisticians tell us that at the present moment 54.6 per cent. of the goods that the Japanese army and navy need for war are supplied by the United States.

THE ABROGATION of the treaty points clearly to three conclusions:

FIRSTLY, despite the defeat of his neutrality amendment, President Roosevelt is determined to continue the bold anti-aggression policy heralded in a series of his pronouncements and initiated in action by the Lima conference and the transfer of the U.S. Fleet to the Pacific. This means that he believes, as we believe, that American opinion will support him in throwing the weight of the world's greatest Democracy on the side of Peace.

SECONDLY, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, the Chinese people, and enemies of aggression throughout the world are completely right in their confidence that, whatever the present waverings, the creation of a world front against aggression is inevitable, and that this front will be far stronger than any possible combination of Fascist powers.

THIRDLY, the United States has taken into its hands the initiative in putting pressure on the robber of the Far East, and expects this initiative to be followed by the other interested Powers. To leave the United States to act alone at this juncture would be to sabotage international aid to China and the hope of common action for the preservation of peace throughout the world.

SOME SURPRISE may be occasioned by the fact that the President has gone ahead so boldly despite congressional opposition. The answer to this is that Mr. Roosevelt is backed by an increasingly educated public will which is fast discarding the ostrich isolationism to which its no longer representative representatives still obstinately cling.

THIS SITUATION is in direct contrast to that in Great Britain, where the direction of foreign policy is also largely in the hands of one man. Mr. Chamberlain, however, does not work as openly as Mr. Roosevelt. He is compelled to carry out his appeasement moves behind a smoke-screen of subtlety, and his every open expression of readiness to compromise with aggression is greeted by an uproar in the popular press. Mr. Roosevelt's policy has a future. Mr. Chamberlain's will be reversed.

CORRESPONDENCE

PRESS POSTERS & HEADLINES

(To the Editor of the "Hongkong Daily Press")
Sir,—In the belief that questions in the House of Commons relating to Press Posters and Headlines, have not come under your notice, I append them hereunder:—

"Sir Percy Hurd (Cons., Devon) asked the Prime Minister if he was aware of the harmful effect upon international relations of sensational and exaggerated newspaper posters and headlines in a section of the Press, and if in the next of his weekly conferences with the Press the Foreign Secretary would represent this to them with a view to discovering some remedy."

Mr. Chamberlain: I am glad to take this opportunity of deprecating the display of posters which contain sensational, exaggerated, or misleading captions which are calculated to give rise to unnecessary anxiety at home and undesirable reactions abroad. The same observations are not infrequently applicable to headlines in a section of the Press.

The Foreign Secretary through the news department of the Foreign Office, consistently draws the attention of representatives of the Press to these dangers, and I am glad to think that proprietors and editors of newspapers in this country are aware of that, and with some exceptions are heeding of the advice offered.

Sir Percy Hurd asked, with reference to the exceptions, whether the Prime Minister would say why the Press should not manage its own unruly members as did doctors, lawyers, and other people in the professions.

Mr. Chamberlain: I think the Press do, for the most part."

In calling your attention to the Prime Minister's disapproval of "Sensational, exaggerated or misleading captions which are calculated to give rise to unnecessary anxiety" I do earnestly suggest that the local Press by refraining from the issue of such reports and posters will render this Colony a very real service.

I think there is no gainsaying the fact that much of the present tension prevailing in Hongkong has been due to the distorted reports appearing in the Press, which on reflection have proved to have been largely of a propaganda nature.

This is surely a time when anxiety and fears should be allayed rather than stirred up by publishing unauthoritative and distorted reports.

T. E. Pearce.

(We have always guarded against sensational Posters and Headlines. We do not think that this newspaper can be accused of offending in any way.

Every cable is carefully gone through on arrival and any suggestion of propaganda is expunged. Particular care has been taken, by us during the more recent events. Only two days ago we practically suppressed the whole of one semi-official Axis News Agency. The reports of certain news agencies (usually reliable) from Japanese occupied areas in China is liable to be tinged with propaganda, in order probably to pass the Japanese censor.

Unfortunately, sensationalism sells papers and here we think the public and advertisers might help in barring any newspaper that lives on sensational posters and headlines regardless of the truth.—Ed.)

THE WEATHER

The temperature yesterday was 82 degrees with humidity 93 at its maximum and 88 per cent. minimum.

The total rainfall in the last 24 hours, ending at 4 p.m. yesterday was 0.91 of an inch.

A depression is forming about 500 miles east of the Bashi Channel moving in a westerly direction, whilst a shallow depression covers south-east China and Tongking.

A ridge of high pressure extends from Korea to the east of Japan.

Mr. Chamberlain's hand. No longer will it be possible for the Prime Minister to plead that Britain is unable to carry alone the burden of opposing Japan. No longer can America be blamed for lack of co-operation.

THE MOST plausible reason for London's compromise with Tokyo has disappeared. It is time that the attitude that engendered that unfortunate step should disappear also.

ANOTHER agreement with Japan is due for abrogation. True, it has not lasted since 1911. But it has lasted long enough.

H.K. GOVERNOR ON THE TOKYO AGREEMENT

a weakening of British policy in China, and that this belief is having a disheartening effect on those who hold it.

I wish to state clearly and emphatically that in my view there is no ground whatever for that apprehension, which, I am convinced, has been sedulously and ingeniously spread by those who are ill-disposed towards Great Britain or who are at enmity with China.

DENIED IN PARLIAMENT

The suggestion has been publicly and categorically denied in Parliament by the Prime Minister and the Secretary for Foreign Affairs. In the following identical words: "The declaration at Tientsin does not, and cannot, change the British Government's policy in China." Sir Robert Craigie has used a very similar phrase.

I am certain that these words mean exactly what they say, no more and no less, and I am clear that to cast doubt upon them must render more difficult the pursuance of that British policy in China.

In certain unfriendly quarters elsewhere the agreement has been publicly hailed as a blow to British prestige and a set-back to China. To represent the British Prime Minister's plain statement of policy as in any way insincere or equivocal is to endorse such propaganda, and to play the game of those who set it about." (Loud Applause).

HON. MR. T. N. CHAU

Hon. Mr. T. N. Chau: My Chinese colleagues and I are very pleased to hear the statement just made by Your Excellency. I am sure that such a statement will help to dissipate any false impression that might be created amongst the Chinese population. (Applause).

MID - WEEK AIR MAIL 24 HRS. LATE

Bangkok Connection Delayed

The arrival of the mid-week inward service of Imperial Airways, from Bangkok, with passengers and mail from all Empire Route ports, has been delayed nearly twenty-four hours. It is reported by the local office that the delay is due to the main line connection in Bangkok being late.

Mr. A. C. Campbell-Orde, chief operations manager of Imperial Airways, who is on an inspection tour of the company's services, was due to arrive on yesterday afternoon's plane. However, according to Mr. M. H. Curtis, manager of the local office, Mr. Campbell-Orde will not arrive in Hongkong to-day, but has postponed his call until August 7.

Change Of Plans

The operations manager will probably proceed to visit the Australian service and stop in Hongkong on his way back to his offices in London. The sudden change of plans has been necessitated by the press of time and the delayed service on this section of the route.

The Imperial Airways' plane, "Delphinus" is due to arrive at Kai Tak this morning, with passengers and mail from Bangkok and Hanol.

DECREE NISI GRANTED

The decree nisi granted on January 13 to Lilian Edith Evans Beatrice Muller, who petitioned for dissolution of her marriage with Hans Herbert Muller, was pronounced absolute by the Chief Justice, Sir Atholl MacGregor, in the Supreme Court yesterday.

"Will Defend To End"

G.O.C.'S FORCEFUL ADDRESS

Portuguese And Chinese Praised

His Excellency the General Officer Commanding said:—Last week when this Bill was read by this Council, I was away in North China.

I therefore take this opportunity to assure Hon. Members how much importance I, as Fortress Commander, attach to it.

No one can forecast the future in these circumstances, and nobody can say what will happen. It may be that this fortress will be attacked. If that happens, these facilities will become necessary, and we shall resist to the full power of our resources and strength.

I mention this point because it is possible that rumours to the contrary may have reached the ears of Hon. Members.

These rumours are spread by those ill-disposed towards us, and I wish to point out that they are entirely false.

It is our intention to defend the Colony to the end, and those who proclaim to the contrary are making mis-statements.

It is my duty to bring to the notice of Hon. Members any measures which I consider important to the defence of this Colony. This Bill, I consider, to be essential in order that the British-European man-power may be organised and distributed in the best way possible.

KEY MEN

It is possible that Hon. Members may be in doubt on that rather vexed question of Key Men, and I think Hon. Members will be glad to hear how it is proposed to solve the problem of those members of the Volunteers who are now, in fact, key men, and who will be key men.

I have pointed out on various occasions in the past, that in my judgment, the number of key men who will remain in a real emergency will be few, but the fact remains that there are undoubtedly a number of essential services and civil organisations which must be maintained under any circumstances and are important in war than in peace.

At this moment, there are undoubtedly a number of members of the Volunteer Force who are key men, and whose services will be required in similar occupations in war, either permanently or in the initial stages, or who can only be spared from their normal duties for service in the Volunteer Corps for a short period.

It may be that there are some who may be spared for two or three days and then returned to their normal, civil occupations.

Hon. Members will no doubt wish to know how employers are to ensure the retention of the services in war of those members of their staff whom they regard as key men. Any employer who considers that the services of a member of his staff who has joined the Volunteers are essential in war must represent this fact to the Commandant of the Volunteer Defence Corps.

The employer, must, in fact, claim his man. If no satisfactory agreement can be reached between the employer and the Commandant of the H.K.V.D.C., then the matter will be referred to a tribunal to be set up by His Excellency the Governor.

I hope very much that this arrangement will be found very satisfactory. Whatever decision is reached in the case, the man will remain a member of the Volunteer.

I fully realise the difficulty of this key-man question and I fully sympathise with those gentlemen who wish to join up but who are for very excellent reasons unavoidably prevented from doing so.

OTHERS WILL FIGHT

I regret that the Bill was restricted to European Britons but His Excellency has explained why it was necessary. I wish to take this opportunity to express my very high opinion of the local-born Portuguese and Chinese members of the Volunteers. They are expanding and going on very well indeed. I feel confident that they will fight and give their lives willingly in defence of the Colony if necessary.

SEE ALSO PAGE 16

an order for the winding up of the local branch of the Company.

The second and third of Mr. Potter's grounds necessarily involve a consideration of the present relations between China and Japan.

In July 1937 hostilities between these two countries broke out, and at this date are still raging.

As a result of these hostilities the Japanese are in effective occupation of Chefoo and the adjacent country, and of all the maritime coast of the Republic of China. The effect of Proclamations of the Imperial Japanese Government published in August and September 1937 is that it is impossible for ships under the Chinese flag to trade in Chinese waters without being subject to immediate seizure by the naval forces of Japan.

STATE OF WAR

The question whether in these circumstances a state of war exists between China and Japan has been raised by Mr. Sheldon on behalf of those who oppose the petition. The various affidavits filed on behalf of the parties to this action are reasonably explicit on this question. The affidavit of June-ke Choy filed on March 29 in support of the petition refers in paragraph 7 to "the outbreak of hostilities between China and Japan"; his later affidavit of April 3—refers in paragraph 17 to "the blockade of Japanese naval forces exercised against all Chinese vessels"; and Mr. Matsumoto in his affidavit of May 16 in opposition to the application likewise refers in paragraph 9 to "the outbreak of hostilities between China and Japan."

These considered statements on affidavit are entitled to, and must receive due weight, but fortunately for me sitting as a court of first instance, the matter is concluded by two recent judgments.

In the local case of Ford v. Steinman and others, which is unreported, the Full Court of this Colony in judgments delivered as early as December 1937 held that such a state of war existed as to justify sailors on peace-time articles from refusing to serve on a voyage into the coastal waters of China or Japan.

More recently the Court of Appeal in England have considered the same question in the case of Kawasaki Kisen Kaisha Ltd. v. Mitsui Bussan Kaisha Ltd. (1939) 1 A.E.R. 819 where Sir Wilfred Greene M.R., in upholding the decision of the arbitrator who found that the owners were justified in cancelling a charter party which contained the clause "Charterers and owners to have the liberty of cancelling this charter party if war breaks out involving Japan," spoke of his happiness to be able to avoid coming to a conclusion which would violate all his feelings of common sense.

Mr. Sheldon has been driven to argue that the judgment in each of these cases has relation only to the facts of the particular case. That is true, but the point at issue in each of these cases was just the one which I have to decide, and these judgments apply to the facts of the case now before me as cogently as they do to the facts of the cases in which they were delivered.

Sir Wilfred Greene's recourse to the touchstone of common sense fortifies me in my conclusion, not only on the authorities which I have cited but also on my inescapable knowledge of conditions on the China coast, that a state of war exists between China and Japan, and has existed at all times material to this application.

In January 1939 the local office of the Company was closed and its Chinese employees departed from the Colony. On February 1, 1939 the Dairen Kisen Kaisha Ltd. purported to act as agents of the company in this Colony.

CHINESE LAW

In these circumstances can it be said that the Company is still carrying on business in the Colony?

Mr. T. F. Lo, a well qualified and acknowledged expert in Chinese law, has filed a lengthy affidavit setting out in the clearest terms the common law and statutory provisions governing trading with an enemy of the Chinese Republic.

No counter affidavits have been filed and I therefore accept Mr. Lo's statements as an accurate opinion on the legal principles applicable to this case. According to Chinese law the action of the Company in chartering ships to Japanese interests and in appointing Japanese agents is illegal and criminal and all such contracts are not only void but illegal.

Can it then be said that the Company is carrying on business in the Colony when its ostensible agents purport to act under a contract which is illegal by the law of China which is clearly the proper law? The answer must be no.

NO REPRESENTATION

The parent company in China is in process of compulsory winding up, and the local branch is without lawful representation in the Colony. What then is the position of this Court?

Mr. Cheshire in his recent work on Private International Law at p. 197 writes "It is axiomatic that a contract that is illegal by its proper law cannot be enforced in England. The dearth of authority for this proposition is not surprising, for few would be bold enough to sue on a contract that is prohibited by the legal system to which it properly belongs."

In The Torni (1932) p. 78 at 88 Greer L.J. in considering the judgments in the Court of Appeal in In re Missouri Steamship Co. (42 Ch.D. 321) said: "I regard the decision as meaning that if, in the country where the contract was made, the contract was illegal—not merely void and unenforceable but illegal—then the courts in this country would recognise the illegality and act in accordance with the law of the country where the contract was made."

Mr. Cheshire puts it thus: "It has been suggested that a contract which is illegal by the law of the country where it is made cannot be enforced in England."

"Bold and sweeping statements of this nature are seldom tenable in Private International Law. This particular one, at any rate, derives little confirmation from the decisions usually cited in its favour, since they were concerned with cases in which the lex loci contractus was also the proper law. The casual place of completion cannot as a rule raise legal effects.

"It is academic and impracticable to suggest that a contract must be regarded as a nullity everywhere merely because it happens to have been made in a country by the law of which it is illegal. But what is true is that if that country is something more than the locus contractus, if, for instance, one of the parties is resident there, or if the subject-matter of a contract of sale is situated there, then, even though the law of that country is not the proper law, nevertheless any imperative provision by which it prohibits and illegalises the contract will be recognised by the English Courts."

OPPOSITION'S CASE

Mr. Sheldon has submitted three interesting arguments in opposition to the making of the order prayed.

Firstly, he contends, the fact that the local branch of the Company is precluded by existing circumstances from carrying on business in the Colony is not in itself a ground for making a winding-up order, and he relies on the case of In re Middlesborough Assembly Rooms Co. (1879) 14 Ch.D. 104.

In that case a company formed for building and letting assembly rooms resolved, owing to trade depression, to suspend work, for more than a year.

A shareholder presented a petition for winding-up. He was supported by one-eighth in value of the shareholders whereas the petition was opposed by four-fifths in value.

In these circumstances the Court of Appeal held that a winding-up order ought not to be made.

In my opinion that case is easily distinguishable. It was a petition for the winding-up of an English Company whereas here I have to consider a petition for the winding-up of the local branch of a foreign company which has already been wound up by order of a competent court. I know of no authority for keeping alive a branch where the parent trunk is in process of dissolution.

Secondly, he argues, the Supreme Court of China has made an order which is entirely nugatory. The only assets within the jurisdiction of that court are fourteen ships based on Chefoo or Dairen, and, notwithstanding the order of the court these ships are still trading. This court will not make a useless or ineffective decree (Ferguson v. Wilson L.R. 2 Chancery Appeals p. 77).

TWO FALLACIES

That argument is based on two fallacies. In the first place the company has within the jurisdiction of this court substantial assets and it has not been suggested that any order which I make will not be immediately effective so far as these assets are concerned. In the second place the fact that certain foreign nationals are in contempt of an order of a competent court is no reason why I should disregard that order or fail to treat it with proper respect. The case of de Jager v. A.G. for Natal (1907) Appeal Cases 328 is direct authority for the proposition company in Chefoo is still subject to the jurisdiction of the Chinese courts. As Lord Loreburn there said in delivering the judgment of the Judicial Committee: "The protection of a State does not cease merely because the State forces for strategic or other reasons, are temporarily withdrawn, so that the enemy for the time exercises the rights of an army in occupation. On the contrary, when such territory reverts to the control of its rightful sovereign wrongs done during the foreign occupation are cognisable by the ordinary courts."

In the third place, he maintains the contributories are the best judges as to whether there is any danger to the local assets of the company. Their considered view is shown by the fact that whereas the petition is presented by contributories holding 1,500 shares it is opposed by 50,000 in value, and it is a familiar and settled principle that a court will not interfere with a domestic forum.

It is perhaps not surprising that the majority of the contributories resident either in the province of Shantung which is in Japanese occupation or in Dairen in Manchukuo should desire to trade with the enemy. It may, for aught I know be a profitable undertaking; it is in any event more profitable than having the company's ships laid up in harbour or forcibly seized by the Japanese forces.

HIGH TREASON

It is clear however from Mr. T. F. Lo's affidavit that these activities of the company are by Chinese law illegal, in fact treasonable and I have not been referred to any authority for the proposition that, in order to meet the wishes of a majority of shareholders I should connive at and in fact facilitate high treason by subjects of a friendly power.

Mr. D'Almada, who followed Mr. Sheldon, has advanced another argument.

Assuming every argument put forward by Mr. Potter, Mr. D'Almada submits that the true remedy is not a winding-up order but an injunction to restrain the local branch from doing illegal acts. That submission seems to me to disregard two facts, firstly, that the company has been wound up in China and that we are concerned here only with a branch, and, secondly, that the company having no representatives here except a Japanese corporation whose contract of agency is illegal by the laws of China, there is no one on whom an injunction could be served.

Having come to the conclusion which I have already reached on Mr. Potter's first ground, it is not strictly necessary for me to state my views on the second and third grounds, but in case on appeal the Full Court holds that the first ground fails it will obviate the necessity for a rehearing de novo if I record that in my judgment the petition is one which should be granted on all the three grounds advanced.

There will be an order for the winding up of the branch of the company within the jurisdiction of this Court. There will be liberty to appeal and the costs of the petitioners will be paid from the local assets of the company.

CHINESE SHIPPING CO.'S WINDING-UP
PETITION ALLOWEDJudgment Delivered
By Chief Justice

The full judgment in respect of the application brought by Shiang Kee, otherwise known as the China Merchants Steam Navigation Co., Ltd., for the winding-up of the Ching Kee Steam Navigation Co., Ltd., was delivered by the Chief Justice, Sir Atholl MacGregor, in the Supreme Court on Wednesday.

Petitioners, who are shareholders in the Ching Kee Steam Navigation Co., Ltd., were represented by Mr. Eldon Potter, K.C. and Mr. H. C. Macnamara, instructed by Mr. D. L. Strellett, of Messrs. G. K. Hall Brutton and Co., while shareholders in Dairen opposing the petition were represented by Mr. H. G. Sheldon, K.C. and the Hon. Mr. Leo D'Almada e Castro, Jnr., instructed by Mr. H. J. Armstrong, of Messrs. Deacons.

The text of the judgment is as follows:—

The Ching Kee Steam Navigation Company Limited, which hereafter in this judgment I shall refer to as "the company" was duly incorporated and registered as a company with limited liability under the laws of the Republic of China on April 1, 1920. The head office of the company has at all material times been in Chefoo. The business of the company is and throughout has been that of ship-owners, carriers by sea, and other business in connection with shipping. Since the year 1920 the company has had a branch office in Hongkong. The company is an unregistered company so far as the laws of this Colony are concerned, and the jurisdiction invoked in this application is that conferred on this Court by Section 313 of the Companies Ordinance 1932, the material provisions of which are:—

313 (1) (b) The circumstances in which an unregistered company may be wound up are as follows:—(i) If the company is dissolved, or has ceased to carry on business, or is carrying on business only for the purpose of winding up its affairs; (iii) If the Court is of opinion that it is just and equitable that the company should be wound up. 313 (2) Where a company incorporated outside the Colony which has been carrying on business in the Colony ceases to carry on business in the Colony, it may be wound up as an unregistered company under this Part of the Ordinance notwithstanding that it has been dissolved or otherwise ceased to exist as a company under or by virtue of the laws of the country under which it was incorporated.

FACTS SUMMARISED

The facts, so far as they are material to this application, can be summarised quite briefly. The Company owns and operates twenty steamships. Eleven of these vessels are chartered to Japanese interests, three are engaged in ordinary shipping business, and the other six have, since August, 1937, been lying in the waters of the Colony. The only local activity of the Company during that period has been that one of the vessels was from November 1938 to February 25, 1939 chartered for use as a storage hulk.

The Dairen Kisen Kabushiki Kaisha, a corporation established under the laws of Japan, was appointed to act as agents of the Company in 1939, and the local representatives of that corporation purported to assume duty as agents of the company in Hongkong as from 1st February, 1939.

The District Court of Chungking, having been duly authorised in that behalf by an order of the Supreme Court of China, in February 1939 ordered the immediate dissolution of the Company and appointed three liquidators. From that decision an appeal was taken to the First Divisional Court of the Supreme Court of China, which on May 30 dismissed the appeal. That decision is final.

GROUNDS SET OUT

The present application is based on three grounds:

(i) That there has been a winding-up order made by a court of competent jurisdiction in the country in which the company was incorporated, and, as a result of that winding-up, the corporate powers of the Company have been destroyed in the country of its origin;

(ii) That the Company has in fact ceased to carry on business in the Colony; and

(iii) That it is just and equitable that the Company should be wound up. The substratum of the Company has gone. It is a shipping company, and cannot carry on legitimate business because of the risk of seizure of their vessels by enemy forces. The only avenue of business open to the Company are either illegal trading with the enemy or work extraneous to the true objects of the company such as the chartering of their vessels for use as hulks within this harbour.

On the first of these grounds, Mr. Potter relies on the case of In re The Russian Bank for Foreign Trade (1933) 1 Chancery 745. In that case the Russian revolutionary legislation of 1917 and the following years had put an end to the juristic existence of banking companies incorporated in Russia, and it was held that the impossibility of a branch of such a Russian bank continuing to function according to its incorporating statutes was a sufficient ground for a winding-up order. In delivering judgment Maughan J (as he then was) said: "The decrees as regards banks whose seats and principal offices were taken over by the state, must be regarded as so crippling the powers of the companies that, if not extinct, they could no longer exhibit any of the signs of life. At the best the bank, as a legal corporation, deprived as it was of its assets and its corporators, became no more than a legal conception. Its branch in England, if an old metaphor may be employed, is now a submerged wreck floating on the ocean of commerce. As a branch of the original bank it appears, however, to have or to have had creditors in this country, and if the petition before me is properly presented I am of opinion both that the bank has ceased legally to carry on business, and that it is just and equitable that it should be wound up. The essential features of the case are, indeed, of a simple character. A corporation created and established under a foreign legal system has been allowed by our laws to carry on business and to incur debts in this country. Its corporate powers, if not its corporate existence, have been destroyed in its country of origin. It cannot be doubted that in such circumstances the Court, if it has jurisdiction, ought to make an order which will secure as far as possible the payment of all just claims against the corporation." An order was made for the compulsory winding-up of the company.

CORPORATIONS

In his speech in the case of Lazard Bros. & Co. v. Midland Bank (1933) A.C.289 at 297, Lord Wright says: "English courts have long since recognised as juristic persons corporations established by foreign law in virtue of the fact of their creation and continuance under and by that law. Such recognition is said to be by the comity of nations. This in Henriques v. Dutch West India Co. (1729) 2 Lord Raymond (1532, 1535) the Dutch company were permitted to sue in the King's Bench on evidence being given of the proper instruments whereby the law of Holland they were effectually created a corporation there. But as the creation depends on the act of the foreign state which created them the annulment of the act of creation by the same power will involve the dissolution and non-existence of the corporation in the eyes of English law. The will of the sovereign authority which created it can also destroy it. English law will equally recognise the one, as the other, fact."

Mr. Sheldon on this point has referred to two cases in re Commercial Bank of South Australia (1888) 33 Ch.D. 174 and In re Matheson Brothers Ltd. (1884) 27 Ch.D. 225. These cases, tried while the Companies Act 1862 was still in force, decide only that the English Courts have jurisdiction to wind up a branch in England of a foreign company despite the pendency of foreign liquidation. In the latter case Kay J. says "What is the effect of the winding up order which it is said has been made in New Zealand? This court upon principles of international comity, would no doubt have great regard to that winding up order and would be influenced thereby, but the question, and the mere existence of a winding up order made by a foreign court does not take away the right of the courts of this country to make a winding up order here, though it would no doubt exercise an influence upon this court in making the order."

NOT ALTERED

Here we have not a dissolution as in the two cases to which Mr. Potter has referred me but an intermediate stage, an order for compulsory winding up. I do not think that that radically alters the position. The Company in China is in process of dissolution, and the circumstances are such that in my judgment this court ought to make

UNITED STATES BOMBSHELL FOR JAPAN: 1911 TREATY OF COMMERCE ABROGATED

Capital Taken By Surprise

WASHINGTON, July 27 (Reuter)—The U.S. State Department announces that the United States is terminating the Treaty of Commerce and Navigation of 1911 with Japan, thereby opening the way for an embargo on the shipment of raw materials to Japan.

Mr. Cordell Hull, U.S. Secretary of State handed a note to the Japanese Ambassador in Washington informing him of this step.

EFFECT ON TOKYO FORMULA?

The Government's action came like a bombshell, since it had been stated earlier that the Foreign Relations Committee of the Senate had yesterday postponed discussion of the Treaty until later in the week on a proposal which had been made that the Senate should place on record that the abrogation of the Treaty was favoured.

It was also stated that Senator Pittman revealed to pressmen that the closed session of the Committee had discussed the possible effect of taking such a course on the recent Anglo-Japanese agreement.

Earlier yesterday, Mr. Cordell Hull had a talk with President Roosevelt after seeing his Far Eastern advisers and the President approved of the abrogation of the Treaty, which does not become effective until January 26, 1940. Congress will then be in session and will be able to discuss the question of placing an embargo on the export of raw materials to Japan.

CAPITAL SUPRISED

The abrogation of the Treaty took the capital by surprise. Mr. Hull, at 10.30 p.m., telephoned journalists to go to the State Department where he read the text of the announcement, which states that the Treaty "contains provisions which need new consideration."

Mr. Hull added that the United States was signifying its desire to terminate the pact "with a view to a better safeguarding and promotion of American interests as the new developments may require."

STEP TOWARDS WAR?

The United States is Japan's largest supplier of raw materials which are necessary for war operations, principally cotton, iron, steel and petroleum and supporters of the embargo believe that its application will have such an effect on Japan as to check her in China and, perhaps, force her withdrawal, while opponents of the embargo regard it as a step towards war, believing that Japan will retaliate after which there will be counter-retaliation by the United States and, perhaps, physical conflict.

LONDON ROCKED BY BOMB EXPLOSIONS:

LONDON, July 27 (Reuter)—While the House of Commons was expected to pass the Prevention of Violence Bill in all its stages last night, the entire King's Cross Station and the shops outside were rocked with the violence of a bomb explosion attributed to the I.R.A.

Two taxis were damaged and sixteen persons were injured, of whom one man has already died of the injuries he received.

The terrorists had hidden a bomb in a suitcase which was left under the counter of the Left Luggage Office at the end of one of the main arrival platforms, which was crowded with passengers at the time of the explosion. The splintered wood from the counter was blown forty yards.

Following the explosion, acid fumes filled the station. Private motor cars were used as emergency dressing stations until the ambulances arrived.

Crowds demonstrated against Irish-looking persons and later five men were taken to Cannon Row Police Station for questioning.

MR. DE VALERA CONDEMNS OUTRAGES IN BRITAIN: CHARGED CIRCUMSTANCES

DUBLIN, July 27 (Reuter)—The bombing outrages in Britain were strongly condemned by Mr. Eamon de Valera in the Senate yesterday when replying to the debate on the resolution demanding a Government statement "as to the justifiability and expectancy of bombing activities in Britain by Irish citizens."

Mr. de Valera said: "We know what wrong was done by the partition of Ireland. Unfortunately the Government of Eire are not in a position to remove the causes that led to the unfortunate occurrence in England."

NO EXCUSE

There was no excuse for the bombings and the Government of Eire had no sympathy with them. The bombings had undoubtedly given the Eire Government a setback.

Mr. de Valera appealed to the people concerned to take into consideration the changed circumstances since the establishment of the Eire Government.

Mr. de Valera caused a sensation when he suggested as a remedy for removing the turmoil which embroiled the two countries that those in the North, numbering about 80,000, should be bought out, compensated and allowed to go elsewhere if they did not come into a united Ireland.

China War:

CHINESE IN COMPLETE CONTROL

JAPANESE FAILURE IN S.E. SHANSI

LOYANG, July 27 (Central)—The Chinese retain their positions in south-east Shansi after shattering the latest "mopping up" campaign launched by Japanese contingents converging from the Taokok-Tsinghua, Peiping-Hankow, Chengtai and Tatung-Puchow Railways.

A Chinese force of 100,000 strong, which the Japanese vainly attempted to clear up, is still in complete control of the key points there.

Repulsed by the Chinese, a part of the invaders have begun to withdraw. About 2,000 Japanese who have pushed east of Yicheng, are now moving back to Kuwo, Howma, Antseh and Fowshan, while another 1,000 are returning to Hungtung on the Tatung-Puchow Railway north of Linfen.

The failure of the Japanese campaign is attributed by competent observers to the constant surprise raids conducted by Chinese mobile fighters, the rains which made the ground too muddy for their mechanised units to operate, and the practice of the Chinese people to carry everything away when evacuating from their villages and towns.

Japanese Attacked

AN UNDISCLOSED PLACE, SHANTUNG, July 27 (Central)—More than 200 Japanese troops, moving from Tsingtao to Chungking, in East Shantung, were attacked by Chinese units at Tung-chiachwang, near Chuehng, last Sunday.

ASSASSINATION PLOT THWARTED IN SYRIA

DAMASCUS, July 27 (Reuter)

A plot to assassinate Ben-Jee Khalib, the President of the new Syrian Council of Directors, and a number of other high officials and political personages was thwarted by a series of arrests.

Several Palestine terrorists were stated to be involved in the attempt of which the Government was informed and consequently are keeping close guard on the intended victims.

CAUGHT TAKING PHOTOGRAPHS

Japanese Pressman Punished

CHUNGKING, July 27 (Central)—A Shanghai message reveals that a Japanese newspaperman was caught taking photographs during the ceremony in which Admiral Harry Yarnell, the outgoing Commander-in-Chief of the American Asiatic Fleet, transferred his duties to Rear-Admiral Thomas C. Hart, the new Commander-in-Chief, on the U. S. S. Augusta, on Wednesday.

His films, it was stated, were confiscated and he was ordered to stand at one corner until after the end of the ceremony before he was allowed to go.

"CHAMPS" AGAIN BEATEN

The "Champs" suffered their second defeat last night at the Bowling Alleys when they went down to the "Wash-Outs" by the narrow margin of 58 points.

The game was closely contested throughout, the "Champs" led for the first four games but in the fifth the "Wash-Outs" staged a great recovery to aggregate 3,321 points to the losers' 3,263.

Why America Has To Act

JAPAN NOW WANTS WESTERN PACIFIC

TOKYO, July 27 (Reuter)—To secure command of the Western Pacific "which is indispensable for the construction of a new order in East Asia," is the object of the new Japanese fleet, the organization of which has just been announced, according to a spokesman of the Admiralty.

The spokesman stated that the new fleet be kept on a war footing and will engage in special training for emergencies.

NO SIGN OF RELAXATION

ANTI-BRITISH MOVEMENT IN TIENTSIN

CHUNGKING, July 27 (Central)—The Japanese-sponsored anti-British movement in Tientsin is showing no sign of relaxation, states a Tientsin report.

In a broadcast yesterday the Japanese advised the Chinese residents in the British and French Concessions in Tientsin to move out.

It is learned that British goods in Chinese shops will be inspected and sealed up. Sales of them will be forbidden temporarily.

The British Consul-General in Tientsin has lodged a protest with the Japanese authorities over the wrecking of British property in Tangku by anti-British demonstrators.

WANG'S TRAITOR GANGS ACTIVE IN SHANGHAI

Chinese press dispatches from Shanghai state that Wang Ching-wang's terrorist gangs continue to threaten patriotic newspapers published in the settlement.

The "China Evening News" and other dailies have received letters ordering them to stop publication before August 1. Wang's agents have also approached their workmen offering to pay their keep if they leave their jobs—or else.

Neither publisher nor workers are paying any attention to the traitors. A poignant note is lent to the story by the fact that Wang's organ, the "Chung Hwa Daily News" has also been threatened by the very efficient groups who have made playing about with the Japanese a very dangerous pastime in Shanghai.

As a result, the puppet paper has installed triple iron doors and an armed guard.

COUNTY CRICKET LUNCH SCORES

LONDON, July 27 (Reuter)—County cricket lunch scores are as follows:

Glamorgan v. Leicestershire (no play before lunch); Hampshire 38 for 2 v. Gloucestershire 212; Lancashire 63 for 3 v. Nottingham 368; Middlesex 368 for 6 v. Derby 110; Somerset 51 v. Essex 72 and 84 for 3; Surrey v. West Indies 187 (at the Oval); Warwickshire 142 for 3 v. Sussex 238; Worcester 102 and 118 v. Yorkshire 91 and 77 for 7.

WORCESTER WIN

LONDON, July 27 (Reuter)—Worcester defeated Yorkshire by 16 runs. Worcester 102 (Verity 4 for 35) and 118 (Verity 4 for 40); Yorkshire 91 (Perks 4 for 20) and 113 (Perks 5 for 50; Martin 4 for 30).

GOODWOOD CUP RESULT

LONDON, July 27 (Reuter)—The Goodwood Cup run to-day resulted as follows:—1. Dubonnet (6 to 4); Senor (8 to 1); Contravent (100 to 30). Five ran. Won by a length, six lengths between second and third.

King George yesterday received General Evangeline Booth, Head of the Salvation Army, who is retiring in October, reports Reuter from London.

YEN NOTES HIDDEN IN BIG FISH

SHANGHAI, July 27 (Reuter)—An attempt to smuggle 6,600 yen in notes into Shanghai in the body of a big fish was foiled recently by two watchful officers of the Chinese Maritime Customs.

Kept in the refrigerator of a coastal steamer, the fish presented a bloated appearance, which aroused the suspicions of the officers. It was cut open on their orders and the notes were found inside, packed in neat bundles.

CANTON CURRENCY CONFUSION

BIG DISCOUNTS IN RELATION TO H.K. DOLLAR

CANTON, July 27 (Reuter)—The depreciation of the Chinese National dollar has caused much confusion in Canton, especially in view of the many different currencies in circulation here.

Recently the notes issued by the former Municipal Bank of Canton were generally not accepted as legal tender, whilst, in a few instances, these were taken at a heavy discount.

In sympathy with the drop in the national currency, military yen also depreciated in terms of the Hongkong dollar. Formerly quoted around Military Yen 185, one can now change 200 yen for each H.K.$100.

Kwangtung Notes

Kwangtung Provincial Bank notes seem to command more confidence than the National dollar. Formerly quoted at a discount of about 20 per cent. in relation to the National dollar, the present discount is only about 12 per cent.

It is learned that the Japanese have protested against Chinese money-changers operating on the island, as these drop in the National dollar usually quote a better rate for the local currency and the military yen than city sources.

Not Accepted

Whether this is true or not, the fact remains that it is now almost impossible to change military yen and local currencies in Shamen. National and Kwangtung notes, however, can be bought from foreign banks, but it is understood that they do not handle military yen.

Though it is logical that these currencies should depreciate in sympathy with the drop in the National dollar in Shanghai and elsewhere, "financial speculators" are blamed for the confusion and it is said that the authorities are endeavouring to introduce some effective method to check their activities.

Troop Movements Taking Place

CANTON, July 27 (Reuter)—The strict searching of Chinese, which was instituted here on July 21, ceased this morning.

Despite the official reason, namely the prevention of the smuggling of military notes to Shamen, it is generally believed that the occasional shooting of Japanese soldiers by armed Chinese was responsible for the searching which was being conducted for arms.

In the meanwhile, heavy troops movements were noticeable in the direction of the Canton-Hankow Railway, where Chinese troops are said to be very active.

TRAGEDY DURING HEAVY RAIN

Four Boys Swept Down Nullah

Four Chinese boys who were playing in the nullah beside the Lower Peak Tram Station shortly after noon yesterday, were swept off their feet by a sudden rush of water during a heavy down-pour of rain and were carried down to the sea, emerging from the outlet, near the Victoria Recreation Club.

Of the four boys three were rescued, Cheung Pak-wah, 13, of No. 4, Weng Lok Lane, Mak Chiu, 13, of No. 1, Wing On Lane, and harbour, for the purpose of fighting the imaginary conflagration.

The exercise was carried out with great efficiency and was witnessed by police and Air Raid Wardens and other officials. It lasted approximately 15 minutes, after which time it was assumed that the fire had been extinguished.

GOOD RESPONSE

From the top of the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank building, an excellent view could be gained of the black-out in the city as well as on the Peak and mid-levels and in Kowloon.

The Kowloon waterfront was totally dark, while over on the island, a few lights could be observed in the upper levels.

Shops, hotels, restaurants and other public places in the city all handled their black-out arrangements very effectively. In spite of the fact that in most cases business proceeded as usual.

Trams and buses stopped and extinguished all lights as soon as the siren was heard, while other traffic likewise observed instructions. Lights of cars were well shaded all round.

IN WANCHAI

In the Wanchai district a large crowd gathered at the junction of Hennessy Road and Fleming Road as a Sanitary Department van pulled up with a decontamination squad aboard.

A bomb was supposed to have dropped here, and the squad proceeded with the task of clearing off the gas with water from a hose and, later, they scrubbed the street down with brooms.

THE DANGER ZONE

The danger zone was barred by ropes across the street, and at each end A. R. P. volunteers kept a strict watch over pedestrians who ventured into the zone.

RESTAURANT INCIDENT

At the corner of Luard Road and Gloucester Road, a crowd of Chinese began to collect shortly after the siren had sounded. The manager of an American-owned restaurant, next to the Luk Kwok Hotel, was stoned by some Chinese, as he objected to some smoking during the mock air-raid. The noise attracted the attention of several passers-by.

The watchman of the restaurant was also stoned while assisting the manager to chase the mob. Finally a police reservist and a policeman came on the scene.

AT SOOKUNPOO

Between 150 and 200 "casualties," suffering both from gas and bomb wounds, strewn on the playing-fields of Sookunpoo, were attended to by St. John Ambulance units of which had been detailed for duty in that district under the charge of Dr. J. E. Dovey, of the Medical Department.

The Brigade Headquarters on Tai Hang Hill Road having had to be evacuated on account of "gas," a temporary hospital had been established at the Ellis Kadoorie Indian School.

TAI HANG IN FLAMES

The "enemy" having dropped incendiary bombs in and around the vicinity of Queen's College playing-field, a large portion of Tai Hang was in flames and this added to the difficulties of the mercy workers.

The general impression left in the mind of this correspondent, however, and he followed "operations" in that district closely, is that the people concerned gave an excellent account of themselves which augured well for any real emergency that might arise.

The fourth, Mak Kin, aged 12, of No. 4, Weng Wah Lane, is missing and is believed to have been drowned.

POSTAGE STAMP FEATURE

Owing to pressure on space, our special postage stamp feature is being held over until to-morrow.

IN KOWLOON

In Kowloon a host of A.R.P. volunteers, recruited to duty, trudged restlessly from house to house, some shy, others self-possessed and authoritative, stopping occasionally to call out a sharp command where a light gleamed on.

An occasional hawk, possessed of an acute business sense, sidled through the crowd, advertising his wares in a sonorous voice above the din.

The lights of Kowloon dimmed with the first sound of the siren and from areas, predominantly Chinese reports were that the native populace showed the finest sense of co-operation.

SERVANTS A PROBLEM

Servants in European households were the worse offenders, and many a kitchen light lingered on as the siren continued sounding.

THE RAIDERS COME

The raiders (even if imaginary) did come within a few minutes of the warning siren, and in the near vicinity of the Yau-mat Police Station two or three (some claimed) three buildings were ablaze.

One of these buildings was the Yau-mat Government School, and here the Fire Brigade was busy at work. The hose was turned on from several fire-engine cars, and the gathered crowd rushed for shelter as water showered down.

A block away along Shanghai Street from the junction of that street with Waterloo Road and in the direction of Tsimshatsui, the decontamination squad was at work. A gas-bomb had been dropped here, and for 15 minutes one block's length of Shanghai Street was scrubbed vigorously.

THE CROWDS

The crowd, several men deep, surged forward again and again in an attempt to see more of what was going on. Grotesque figures in gas-masks held it at bay as sand (or was it sawdust?) and then "Mixture Z," fluid protection from Mustard Gas, was spread over the street surface.

A touch of realism was added to the scene as a reeking odour from the decontaminating fluid filled the air. The figures in the masks and boiler suits seemed to grow more restless with the minutes and, as though bitten by a bug, a masked figure would suddenly rush into the crowd to push it back.

After 15 minutes, the men of the decontamination squad were allowed to take off their hoods, and their unanimous opinion, as opinion held in common with the police officers who had stood guard over the area in similar masks and boiler suits, was that the heat inside these suits came near to being unbearable.

EXERCISE A SUCCESS

The decontaminating squad carried out their job to a high degree of efficiency, and the exercise was a complete success.

Police stations reported that there had been no particularly trying time with pickpockets, and a single man in dock at Yau-mat Police Station was there before the siren first sounded. The first ferries to Hongkong moved through the harbour almost completely without lights.

Opinion in Kowloon last night pronounced the black-out a complete success.

COMBINED EXERCISES

The Navy, Army and Volunteers took part in combined exercises last night. The manoeuvres were part of a programme planned about two months ago, and which is designed to test the defences of the Colony under actual emergency conditions.

AUTHOR & TRAVELLER ARRIVES IN COLONY

Dr. Colin Ross & Family: Thirty Years Of Touring Countries Of The World

Loaded down with plenty of baggage, a motor car and many stories of their past travels, Dr. Colin Ross, with his family, descended on Hongkong. Yesterday morning, the German author and traveller, accompanied by Mrs. Ross and a very good-looking son, arrived in the Colony on the m.v. Gnelsenau from Japan, via Shanghai.

This family, which enjoys the "jole de vivre" to the fullest extent, have not visited Hongkong since 1930. They expect to see new and progressive changes, as they have found in Japan and Shanghai.

Dr. Ross, author of approximately eighteen books, will probably write another of the highly interesting present outlook of the various countries he has visited on this world tour.

PRESENT TOUR

Leaving their home in Munich in September, the "Ross Family" crossed to America and covered that country by motor car, the trip taking almost five months. Their next port was Japan, and here they made use of their car, travelling through the country for nearly four months.

And now they are in the Colony for several days and will continue on to French Indo-China, which they will tour by motor, terminating this section of their travels in Singapore. Dr. Ross is expected to be home before the beginning of the year.

During the past thirty years, the "xypsy" in Dr. Ross has caused him to tour the countries of the world. He knows the peoples well and contends that it is mainly through the use of a motor car which has carried him to many out of the way places.

He found the Japanese nation well united in their one desire to "establish a new order in East Asia." Their patriotic spirit and united efforts he has not seen in any other section of the world.

"WAR IS HORRIBLE"

Regarding war in Europe, Dr. Ross is an optimist. Having served four years in the World War, he hopes not to see another.

"Anyone who saw service in past wars could never wish for another; they definitely want peace. War is a horrible state, which truly can never be explained or defined; one must live in it to understand," is the expression of this quick and intelligent author's thoughts.

Now, Dr. Ross is back in the city he appreciates next to Rio de Janeiro and he expects to enjoy his short stay to the utmost.

South China Blockade

Further extending its closure operations against south China ports, the Japanese navy will make the harbours of Santuao, Loyuan, and Shao ang, all north of Foochow in northern Fukien, inaccessible this week. Vice-Admiral Koshiro Oikawa, commander-in-chief of the Japanese "China Seas Fleet," announced in Shanghai on July 18.

Military operations against Santuao and Loyuan, the Japanese naval authorities said, would be launched at 8 o'clock in the morning, Japan time, on July 21, while those against Shacheng would be started at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, Japan time, on July 22.

Customary Request

The customary request for the evacuation of third party vessels, including men-of-war, from these harbours, as well as the evacuation of third party nationals from the areas in the vicinity of those ports, was made by Vice-Admiral Oikawa through Mr. Yoshiaki Miura, Japanese Consul-General, to the Consular Body. The Chinese Maritime Customs were also notified.

ChungshanFARMERS & BUSES
MACHINE-GUNNED

MACAO, July 27 (Reuter)—

Yesterday Japanese planes

were active over Chungshan, machine-gunning farmers who were harvesting their crops

and also motor buses, one of which contained four murderers

wanted in connection with an armed robbery in Macao recently and who were enroute to Macao.

One of them was killed and two wounded, while one other prisoner was also killed.

The appearance of a number of Japanese warships near Wang-moon has been reported.

WUCHOW BOMBED

KWEILIN, July 27 (Central)—

Wuchow, important city on the West River, in East Kwangsi, was subjected to a fierce air raid by 18 Japanese planes yesterday.

Scores of demolition and incendiary bombs were dumped in the city, starting several fires.

Early in the morning, a lone

Japanese machine flew over the city for reconnaissance.

The arrests and seizure were made on July 25, in Japanese-occupied territory where refuse from the International Settlement was being dumped, the contention being that the Shanghai Municipal Council had no right to dump refuse there.

WANG CHING-WEI'S
"PEACE" APPEAL REFUTED:
DR. LO WEN-KAN'S REPLY

CHUNGKING, July 26 (Central)—Dr. Lo Wen-kan, once Minister of Justice and concurrently Minister of Foreign Affairs and now a member of the People's Political Council, has issued a statement thoroughly refuting Wang Ching-wei's "peace" appeal.

Together with seven other members of the People's Political Council Dr. Lo has recently submitted a petition to Mr. Lin Sen, Chairman of the National Government, and Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, urging the immediate arrest of Wang.

Dr. Lo refuted passage by passage Wang Ching-wei's statement issued on the night of July 9 appealing for "peace."

Wang: "The entire success of the Revolution in China is to a great extent dependent on the understanding of Japan." once said Dr.
Sun Yat-sen, the late leader of the Kuomintang. There is a great deal of truth in this statement. Japan is already a Great Power, whereas China is just starting on the road to progress. For China to go to war against Japan is therefore tantamount to striking a stone with an egg.

SELF-PRESERVATION—
Lo: Whether Dr. Sun Yat-sen
did actually make such a statement or not nobody knows. But we all know that Kang Yu-wei and Liang Chi-chao failed in their Constitutional Movement while Dr.
Sun Yat-sen succeeded in his Revolution because he advocated Nationalism.

If a weak China against a strong Japan is equivalent to striking a stone with an egg,
then there could have been no chance in history for weak nations to strive to become strong and small nations to struggle for self-preservation and they should all have capitulated as Austria and Czechoslovakia did to Germany.

Wang: General Chiang Kai-shek flatly refused Japan's peace overtures, and with a high-handedness typical of dictators, crushed all suggestions for peace within the Kuomintang and within China.
And during the last six months,
things have become even worse.

LEGAL PROCEDURE—
Lo: China's policy of peace and war has been laid down according to the legal procedure and any change should also be made according to this procedure. War or peace should be decided by the opinion of the nation and not by that of any individual.

Previously Chinese who made political talks under the protection of foreign Concessions were ridiculed by foreigners as "foreign Concession politicians." One who stays in the enemy's place and talks of "peace" to please the enemy will certainly remain a disgrace
in the eyes of posterity.

Wang: I see two roads before us now. One is to follow the lead of General Chiang Kai-shek's high sounding words of continuing resistance. The present military strength of the forces under his command is not adequate to resist Japan, nor to keep control of the communists either. The other is to take steps to bring again into realization the teachings of our late leader, Dr. Sun Yat-sen. The first step will be the restoration of peace between China and Japan.
The next step will be the maintenance of peace in Eastern Asia.
The road of General Chiang Kai-shek leads to the extinction of the nation, whereas the latter road leads to the re-birth of China and to the restoration of prosperity to Eastern Asia.

MILITARY STRENGTH—
Lo: The test of China's military strength in the last two years has been seen by both Chinese and foreigners. Any criticism on it should be based on facts. Japan won battles in the Wuhan area, Nanchang, and other places but China's purpose is to win the war. So long as China fights on and does not surrender who can be the victor?
Since the Opium War, the Chinese have lost confidence in themselves for 100 years.

The revival of the national spirit hinges upon the current war of resistance. Who believes that it will lead to the extinction of the nation? As to the bequeathed teaching of Dr. Sun Yat-sen to serve Japan, even non-Kuomintang members will protest on behalf of the late leader.

The ultimate number to be settled would depend upon the result of the experiment and further inquiry into the agricultural and industrial possibilities in the interior.

PROGRESS OF MOSCOW
PARLEYSFresh Instructions
Sent

LONDON, July 27 (BWS)—
The Prime Minister referred in the House of Commons to the Moscow conversations and said that fresh instructions were sent to the British Ambassador, Sir William Seeds, last night and that he hoped to be in a position to make a statement early next week.

Asked whether it was true, as stated in the press, that it had been agreed that military and naval talks would take place in Moscow, Mr. Chamberlain replied:
"We have sent certain instructions to Sir William Seeds, but we have not yet heard the reactions."
